INVERLOCHY CASTLE

THE GRAND HOTEL OF THE SCOTTISH HIGHLANDS

Inverlochy Castle is reflected in its own loch, and backed by Ben Nevis, Britain's highest mountain. The grandeur of this much-awarded historic hotel, with its fine dining restaurant, only adds to the beauty of its dramatic landscape. Queen Victoria, who used the Castle as an escape from running the British Empire, said she "never saw a lovelier or more romantic spot". Today's guest receives an equally royal welcome in the Great Hall, and spends their days walking, relaxing with a matchless selection of limited-release whiskies, or enjoying the fabulous cuisine. It is also the greatest of all bases from which to explore the Highlands.

CROMLIX

ANDY MURRAY'S GOURMET LUXURY COUNTRY HOUSE HOTEL

Less than an hour from Edinburgh and Glasgow International airports, yet in a different world, Cromlix sits in 34 acres of private woodland. It has its own loch with sweeping views towards the Perthshire countryside. A restaurant blending French cuisine and Scottish ingredients, run by the legendary Albert Roux. It also boasts a tennis court in the Wimbledon colours, to celebrate the owner's victory in the men's singles in 2013. A historic house completely transformed by Andy Murray and ICMI and reopened in 2014, Cromlix is a good base for a tour of central Scotland and the Highlands, or for golfers wanting to play at nearby Gleneagles, or for those who just want to chill out and enjoy the peace, the terrace, the Scottish afternoon tea, and the gardens.

- 10 bedrooms, 5 suites and Gate Lodge
- 34 acres of woodlands, gardens and private loch
- Chez Roux restaurant, overseen by Albert Roux, Britain's OBE, KFO owner of Le Gavroche, the first UK restaurant to be awarded three Michelin-stars

CROSSBASKET CASTLE

Crossbasket Castle is the best of both worlds. It's a traditional Scottish luxury hotel nestled in a forest, with a river rushing through its grounds, and décor to suit any Laird of the Manor. It is a perfect wedding and conference venue just 15 minutes drive from the centre of Glasgow, Scotland's largest city, and 35 minutes from Glasgow International Airport.

The Tower of the Castle dates back to the 15th century and its most celebrated owner was the 19th century draper Charles Macintosh, of raincoat fame. It has been brought sympathetically into the heart of the 21st century by its current owners; as well as a textbook historical refurbishment, they have added a brand new ballroom for 250 to the main building.

Opened in May 2016 as a nine-bedroom luxury hotel, Crossbasket Castle also features the 'Albert and Michel Roux Jnr at Crossbasket Castle' restaurant, offering high-end fine dining and the very best of Scottish produce.

Whether it's for an idyllic place to stay during a sojourn in Glasgow, a romantic break, the event of a lifetime or one of the best dining experiences in Scotland, Crossbasket Castle, managed by the award winning ICMI team, is the best of all worlds.

ISLE OF ERISKA

UNIMAGINABLY BEAUTIFUL HOTEL AND SPA RESORT ON A PRIVATE ISLAND OFF THE WEST COAST OF SCOTLAND

Mountains, islands, lochs, inlets, wilderness: the view from Eriska has it all. This gourmet luxury and spa resort is on its own island, off the west coast of Scotland. You could be at the ends of the earth; yet Eriska is less than two hours by private transfer from Glasgow International Airport. As well as a fine dining restaurant famed for its local ingredients, there is an ESPA spa and 17-metre indoor pool, golf course with driving range, and a variety of accommodation with fabulous views.

Eriska offers a variety of activities by prior arrangement, including clay pigeon shooting, mountain biking, sailing and watersports. Just walking around this beautiful island on the hiking trails is an adventure in itself. Cuisine is a focus at Eriska, which has its own salmon smokery and kitchen garden; the chefs can often be seen roaming the island foraging for local wild ingredients, from seaweed to herbs. Vistas from all the rooms are spectacular.

ROCPOOL RESERVE

LUXURY URBAN RETREAT IN THE CAPITAL OF THE HIGHLANDS

Rocpool Reserve is two completely different hotels in one. On the one hand, it is a decadently stylish urban retreat on the edge of Inverness, where you can sip cocktails in the contemporary-chic bar and dine at the Chez Roux restaurant, and relax in your on-balcony hot tub. On the other, it is the perfect touring base, situated in the capital of the Highlands, and equally accessible to the whisky country of Speyside, the dramatic national park around Aviemore, and Loch Ness and its many attractions.

The cossetting metropolitan boutique ambience is a striking contrast to the natural wonders a short drive away, and Rocpool, the city's only five star hotel, is a destination for the traveller who wants both wilderness and contemporary urban creature comforts.

11 bedrooms in four categories: hip, chic, decadent, extra decadent
Flat screen 30" TVs, DVD players, dual cordless phones and super king size beds in every room; iPod docks in some rooms

Chez Roux restaurant, overseen by Albert Roux, Britain's OBE, KFO owner of Le Gavroche, the first UK restaurant to be awarded three Michelin-stars
